

HAWK WARGAMES

NEWSLETTER # 12, 07/12/2012

Hi everyone!

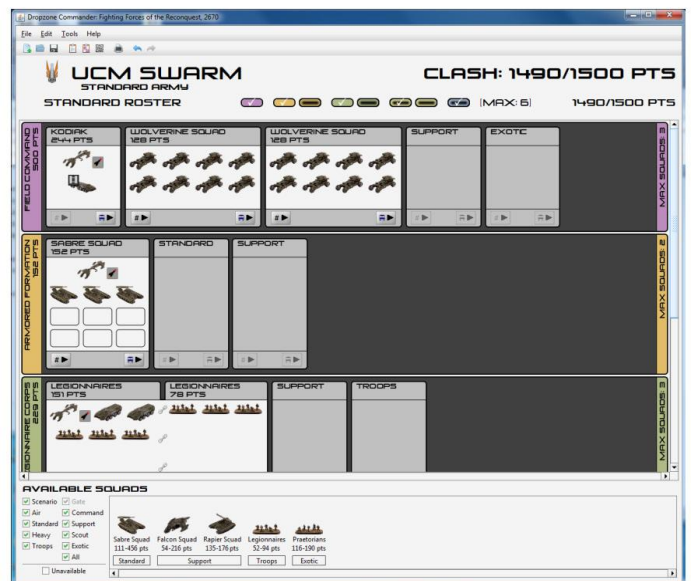

We've got a mix of announcements for you today:

1) Fighting Forces of the Reconquest (FFOR)

- Dropzone Commander army creation software now available FREE!

Hawk Wargames is pleased to announce and officially endorse a brand new piece of Java software designed for Dropzone Commander! It has been created independently by Mr Kevin E. Allen with our full support. FFOR is available to download now.

Fighting Forces of the Reconquest is an excellent tool for creating, saving and editing your army lists! It is highly customisable and includes just about every option you could want. It will also print out a clear and concise reference sheet for your army once you've created it which includes all the core unit and weapon stats of your chosen units! As a Java application, it will run on all major desktop computing platforms.

Have fun - we hope you enjoy it!

2) Dropzone Commander Rules Changes 1.1 now online

After carefully considering the many pages of debate on the Forums, as well as through talking to players in person, we have decided that the time is right for a few minor rules changes. Dropzone Commander is a live game and although this is not something we intend to do often we feel that players will prefer a few official changes in pdf form rather than having to wait for a reprint of the rulebook!

3) Errata 1.7 and Clarifications 1.3 now online

In conjunction with the rules changes we've also updated the Errata and Clarifications documents. These are now available on our downloads section.

4) Full steam ahead on new releases!

Since we've expanded production, moved office, hired new staff, launched the forum, released our scenery line and updated our website we are now working flat out on some new miniatures for you all! The first wave of new releases will be announced and shown for the first time at our open day and tournament on Jan 26th and again at Templecon Rhode Island on Feb 1st.

Now you can expect regular new releases from us throughout the coming year - I'm particularly excited to be back to full time design at last!

5) Xmas shipping dates reminder

It's not too late to get your orders in before Christmas, wherever you are in the world! As stated in our previous newsletter, our recommended Xmas ordering dates are as follows:

UK: December 14th. Delivery is normally next working day. This date is conservative to cover any potential hiccups!

EU: December 11th. Delivery to the EU usually takes 2-3 working days, customs and local post permitting! Please order early to avoid disappointment.

US/ rest of the world: December 9th. Delivery to the US usually takes 2-4 working days, but other countries may vary. In our experience orders placed on or before the 9th should make it safely before Christmas - customs permitting! Please order early to avoid disappointment.

If you're ordering from outside the EU, please be sure to include a phone number with your order. This will avoid any issues with delivery and any delays this may cause!

Stay tuned for next week and have a good weekend!
