Reporting back after an amazing Salute!

1) Hawk Wargames was at Salute! 2013

First of all, the whole of the Hawk Wargames Team would like to say a massive thank you to everyone who came to our stand at Salute! this year. Salute! was such a great show, and we are indebted to all of you who support the game, for the success that we have had so far. So thank you for making our return to Salute! so memorable, enjoyable and exciting.

We wanted to share a little of the story of the making of the stand (mainly with pictures, because it makes it easier to tell). The display was 20ft long and was made up of just over 3 cityscape packs for the scenery part of it. (If you haven't seen the Cityscape scenery have a look here.) There were a little over 21,700 points worth of Dropzone Commander models in the display.

Some Pictures of the Making and the Day at Salute! 2013

Dave constructing UCM

Louis constructing PHR

Spraying the PHR

Dave doing adjustments

Dave setting up the cabinets

The finished Battle scene up at Salute!

Simon demoing Dropzone Commander at the Hawk Wargames stand

Louis hiding behind the cabinet

A massive thanks again from the whole of the Hawk Wargames team, to all those who visited and all those that helped us on the day, and who spread the word about us at the show and since.

2) Just in case anyone missed it - Cityscape now in stores!

This is just a short pointer, just in case anyone was not aware, that our Cityscape scenery pack is now in stores internationally, and available direct from our site too. We look forward to hearing from you about what you think if you have one (or two).

3) Was that a Monorail I saw in the cabinet?

First sights were at Salute this year, and the full Monorail Scenario product will be coming soon, along with pictures, and more information about what it will actually be. Tell us what you thought on our forum...

4) Dave at Valhalla with Blue Table Painting

Look out for videos (you may have already seen a few) this week and next from Valhalla (by Shawn from Blue Table Painting) as Dave is out there demoing Dropzone Commander.

Thanks a lot for reading this very different newsletter, brought to you this week by the less perfectly written words of Louis and Simon. More to come in the weeks ahead with more news and updates on coming events and about the release of the Monorail Scenario.
