

A very short newsletter for you all this week:

1) Dropzone Commander
2 Player Starter Set
Available Now!

All our orders for our brand new plastic set to our distributors, stores and customers have left the warehouse on time! Any orders placed from now on will ship promptly. We thank all those who have bought the set so far and hope that you all enjoy it!

2) Hawk Wargames YouTube Channel Launches!

In tandem with the launch of the new set, we've released a whole series of videos on YouTube, all in full HD. These videos include tutorials for all of Dropzone Commander's main mechanics as well as painting guides and tips for some of the techniques I commonly use when painting our studio, demo and army models of all four races. These include quick paint guides for the UCM and the Scourge, helping you get your new models onto the tabletop and looking good in minutes!

Although these tutorials are designed primarily with new players in mind, experienced gamers and painters may find them useful as well, so be sure to check them out and to subscribe!
